Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

1. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Accordingly, the claimed subject matter regarding "said recessed body portion includes hub projecting from said side walls to form a C-channel and wherein said heating device further includes a C-shaped mounting element..." that is not described in the original specification or shown in the drawings.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed June 01, 1998 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument about the rejected claim 27 under 35 USC 112, 1st paragraph as containing the new subject matter that was not support neither in specification or drawings is noted and carefully considered by the examiner. However, applicant fails to point out that neither in the specification nor in the drawing containing the claimed limitations regarding "C-channel" and "C-shaped mounting element". Therefore, the rejection of claim 27 as containing new subject matter still remains as set forth in the above paragraph.

Art Unit: 3747

Applicant is respectfully to point out more details to support the claimed subject matter as claim or the claim should be canceled.
